

Lions victorious in Flora

The Marshall Lions secured that elusive first win Friday on the road in Flora. With big yardage by Brock Hook and a couple of key pass plays, the Lions won 17-7.

Daniel Littlejohn kicked off to the Wolves to start the game, and Flora moved steadily down the field on carries by Trey Thompson and Cory Moore and a big pass from quarterback Ethan Leeb to Kyle Nicholson. The Lion defensive machine of Nolan Miller, Justin Lewis, Adam Kendall, Logan Goldsberry, Zach Tharp and Jon Newbold fought hard to slow the Wolf advance.

Then just as Flora was closing in on the goal line, a pass attempt was intercepted by Brett Hook, who ran from the end zone to the 29 yard line.

Marshall rolled down the field on carries by Brock Hook, and a big 29-yard Osborn-Hook pass play netted 29 yards. By the end of the first quarter, the Lions were three yards from the Flora goal line, and as the second quarter started, they rolled right over the line for a touchdown by Brock Hook. Littlejohn's extra point kick was good, and Marshall led 7-0.

Flora returned the Littlejohn kickoff to the 25 yard line, and the tough Lion defense held the Wolves to a scant couple of yards. When they attempted to pass on their third down, it was intercepted - this time by Brock Hook. Hook carried the pigskin for 25 yards in the next play three plays, Osborn kept the ball for another 10, and Chad Leitch bolted the last yard for Marshall's second TD. The Littlejohn kick was good, and the Lions led 14-0 with six minutes to go in the half.

Moore. The extra point was good, and Marshall led 14-7 with 1:45 in the half.
Brock received the kickoff at the 30 yard line, and the Lions began their assault with a pass completion to Taylor Maurer and carry by Chad Leitch. Still a few inches short on fourth down, Leitch craftily faked a punt and passed to Goldsberry, who carried the ball to the 45 yard line.
On the next play Osborn connected with Brock, who brought the ball to the ten yard line. Gaining only one yard in the next three plays and wanting badly to score again before the half, Coach Evers decided to go for a Littlejohn field goal, which was good and gave the Lions a 17-7 halftime lead.
In the third quarter, the Wolves rolled all the way to the Lions' one yard line but the Lions defense denied the score and regained possession.

Bluestreaks win big over East Central

By Bill Downey

The 1-4 Bluestreak High School Football Team traveled to Shiloh on Friday night to take on East Central. The Streaks got off the bus ready to play and quickly took a 7-0 lead as Dakota Scott packed the pigskin into the end zone from 6 yards out and Zach Mulkins booted the extra point to make it 7-0.

East Central's next possession came to a quick halt as Kyle Mulkins picked off a pass. The Streaks again took it right to East Central as quarterback Eli Stephens hooked up with Michael Noble on a 69-yard scoring strike. This time the extra point was unsuccessful, but the Streaks still led 13-0 after one period of play.

Just seconds into the second quarter, quarterback Stephens fought his way to paydirt to make it 19-0, and Zach Mulkins again split the uprights to make it 20-0. The two teams battled through the second period before East Central was able to score on a pass from 34 yards out to make it 20-6 as the extra point was no good.

It looked like that would be the score at halftime, but another Kyle Mukins interception and fumble recoveries by Brayden VanGilder and Tyler Elliott kept East Central at bay and allowed QB Stephens to once again find Noble in the end zone for a 6-yard scoring strike with just 23 seconds left in the half. Zach Mulkins crossed the goal line for a two-point conversion, and the Streaks led 28-6 at intermission.

The Martinsville defense was swarming the ball in the first half, the offense was controlling the ball and all looked good for the Streaks. East Central did not see it the same way and were thinking that if they could avoid the turnovers, they could get right back in the game.

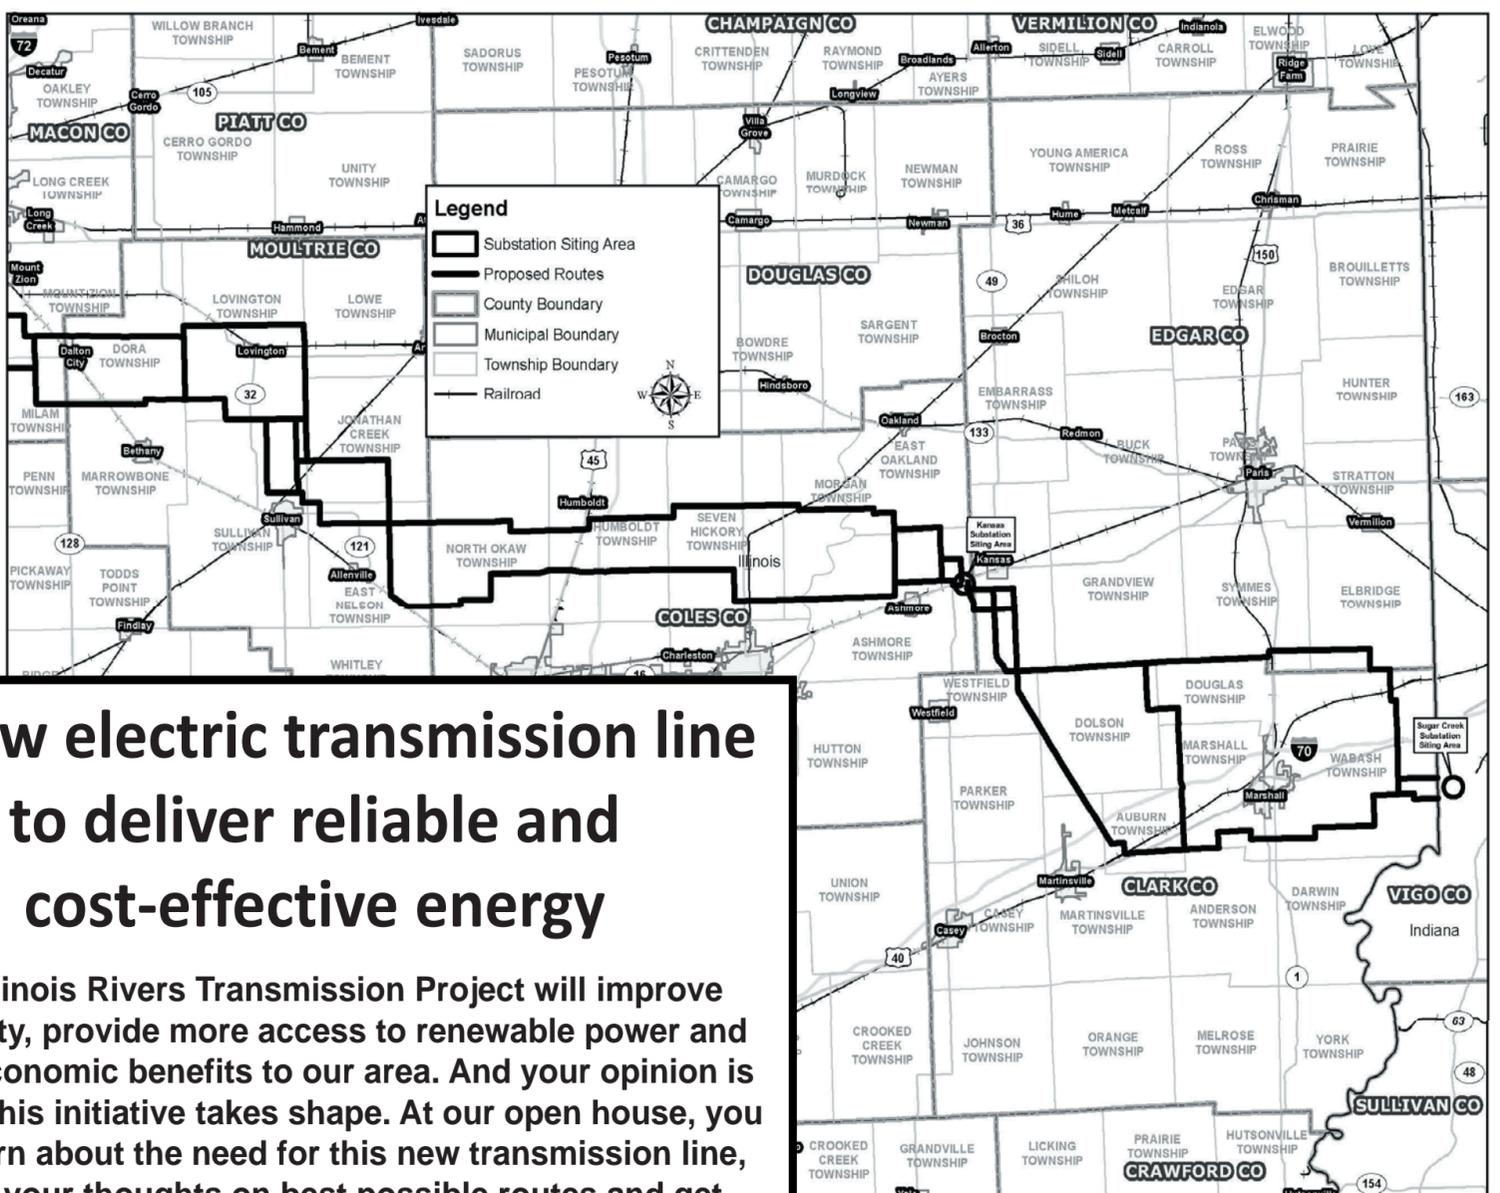

The Streaks kicked off to begin the second half, and East Central returned it all the way to the Martinsville one yard line before being drug down. What appeared to be a sure score for East Central never materialized as the Bluestreak defense stepped up and buried the ballcarriers on four successive plays, and took over on downs deep in their own territory.

Dakota Scott continued to tote the pigskin and got the Streaks out near midfield before they were forced to punt. The Streaks ate up most of the clock in the third period and neither team was able to score.

Carries by Austin Kozloff and Kyle Mulkins helped the Streaks get back in scoring distance just three minutes into the final stanza and another quarterback sneak by QB Eli Stephens netted a score to make it 34-0. The extra point by Zach Mulkins

HISTORY

Area history
In 1912, William Humble, from northern Champaign County, broke loose in Homer, and after firing a couple of shots from a revolver at Village Marshal Cliff Fry, he made his escape into a cornfield and hadn't yet been captured. Humble resided north of Mahomet near Fisher and was frequently in some kind of trouble, but this was the worst of his many offenses.

In 1962, a fire in a maintenance and sales building owned by Twin City Refrigeration Co., 1201 W. Main St., U, was called one of the worst in Urbana in years. The fire caused an estimated $20,000 damage. The building was owned by a corporation headed by Harold Mason. All off-duty Urbana firemen were called in, and a University of Illinois truck assisted about 20 city firemen in putting out the blaze.

International history
Today's highlight:
On Sept. 19, 1982, the smiley emoticon was invented as Carnegie Mellon University Professor Scott E. Fahlman proposed punctuating humorously intended computer messages by employing a colon followed by a hyphen and a parenthesis as a horizontal "smiley face." :-)

On this date:
In 1777, the first Battle of Saratoga was fought during the Revolutionary War; although the British forces succeeded in driving out the American troops, the Americans prevailed in a second battle the following month.

DEATH PENALTY

Ex-recruiter executed for his role in rape-slaying

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A former Army recruiter failed to win a fourth reprieve from the U.S. Supreme Court and was executed Tuesday evening in Texas for participating in the shooting death of a woman he and a buddy met 10 years ago at a bar.

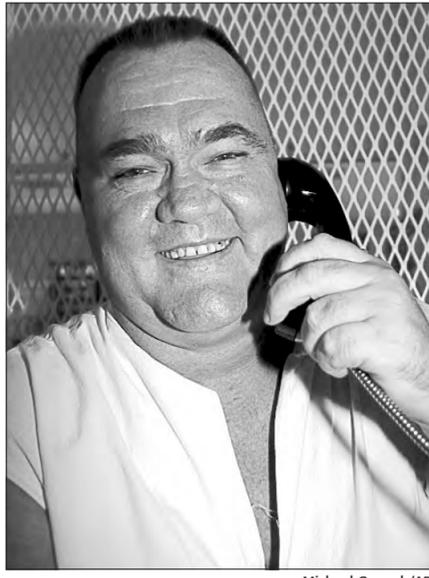

Cleve Foster was pronounced dead at 6:43 p.m. CDT, 25 minutes after his lethal injection began and two hours after the high court refused to postpone his punishment. Three times last year, the justices stopped his scheduled punishment, once when he was moments from being led to the death chamber.

His attorneys argued he was innocent of the 2002 slaying of Nyaneur Pal, a 30-year-old immigrant from Sudan. They also said he had deficient legal help at his trial and in early stages of his appeals and argued his case deserved a closer look.

Foster, 48, also was charged but never tried for the rape-slaying a few months earlier of another woman in Fort Worth, Rachel Urnosky.

In the seconds before the single lethal dose of pentobarbital began, Foster expressed love to his family and to God.

"When I close my eyes, I'll be with the father," he said. "God is everything. He's my life. Tonight I'll be with him."

He did not proclaim innocence or admit guilt. He did turn to relatives of his two victims, saying, "I don't know what you're going to be feeling tonight. I pray we'll all meet in heaven."

TRANSPORTATION

Cars cruising on autopilot? California heading that way

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Jerry Brown signed legislation Tuesday that will pave the way for driverless cars in California.

The bill by Democratic Sen. Alex Padilla will establish safety and performance regulations to test and operate autonomous vehicles on state roads and highways.

The governor signed it at the Mountain View headquarters of Google Inc., which has been developing autonomous car technology and lobbying for the regulations.

Self-driving cars might sound like science fiction, but they are already cruising California's roads and could be sold commercially within the next decade.

Google's fleet of a dozen computer-controlled vehicles — mostly Toyota Priuses equipped with self-driving technology — has logged more than 300,000 miles of self-driving without an accident, the company said.

Autonomous cars use computers, sensors and other technology to operate independently, but a "driver" can override the autopilot function and take control at any time.

With smartphone-wielding drivers more distracted than ever, backers say robotic vehicles have the potential to make roads significantly safer, noting that nearly all car accidents are a result of human error.

The legislation requires the California Department of Motor Vehicles to draft regulations for autonomous vehicles by Jan. 1, 2015. Currently, state law doesn't mention self-driving cars because the technology is so new.

The regulations would allow vehicles to operate autonomously, but a licensed driver would still need to sit behind the wheel to serve as a back-up operator in case of emergency.

The legislation is also aimed at keeping California at the forefront of the autonomous industry since Stanford University and Silicon Valley companies have been working on the technology for years.

In February, Nevada became the first state to approve regulations spelling out requirements for companies to test driverless cars on that state's roads.

In recent years, automakers have been introducing autonomous functions such as self-parking, lane departure warnings and adaptive cruise control.

INVESTIGATION GONE AWRY

2 sheriff's deputies, suspect shot

LAKESIDE, Calif. (AP) — Two sheriff's deputies were shot Tuesday in suburban San Diego while investigating a case of possible child abuse, and the child-abuse suspect was also shot, authorities said.

The shootings occurred shortly after noon when the deputies arrived at an apartment in Lakeside, a semi-rural community east of San Diego, said San Diego County sheriff's Capt. Duncan Fraser. He declined to elaborate on the circumstances, including who fired the shots.

The sheriff's department said in a statement that it had "many witnesses to talk to and evidence to gather."

Fraser didn't know whether any of the injuries were life-threatening or what condition the victims were in. The deputies underwent surgery at Sharp Memorial Hospital in San Diego, according to the sheriff's department, which did not disclose where the suspect was being treated. According to U-T San Diego, a woman said deputies went to the apartment she shares with her boyfriend after she found pornographic pictures of him with her two young daughters on his cellphone.

NEW YORK CITY EXPERIMENT

Morning-after pill available at 13 schools

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York City Department of Education is making the morning-after-pill available to high school girls at 13 public schools.

The department says girls as young as 14 will be able to get the Plan B emergency contraception without parental consent.

Parents have been notified about the CATCH pilot program and how their daughters can opt out of it.

City Council Speaker Christine Quinn says she supports the program because high school students are sexual active and getting pregnant.

The city says about 7,000 girls get pregnant by the time they reach the age of 17. It says more than half choose to get an abortion.
