Removal of Long Term Incentive Compensation
2015 Actuals
(In Thousands)

Witness: Newhouse

Notes:

- (1) Long Term Performance Share Awards (LTPSA) were awarded in 2012 through 2015 and paid out 50% in stock and 50% in cash to Exelon Executives.
- (2) Per Docket 14-0312, ComEd's weighted performance related to CAIDI and SAIFI are recoverable. In 2015 ComEd's weighted performance for CAIDI and SAIFI related to 2013, 2014, and 2015 LTPSAP was 5%. As such, ComEd has removed the remaining 95% of costs for these plans.
- (3) Per Docket 13-0318, no recovery is allowed on the 2012 LTPSA compensation. The LTPSA Plan has a 3 year vesting period and that vesting period runs through the date of the compensation committee meeting which occurs in January. These costs represent one month of expense in January 2015.
- (4) Allocation to jurisdictional based on 2015 Wages & Salaries allocation factor (see WPA-5, Page 1).
- (5) 100% of the Stock Options and Restricted Stock plans are now Exelon Plans and not ComEd specific. ComEd has removed 100% of those plans from the revenue requirement. The RSU plan was not offered to ComEd Executives below SVP in 2015.
- (6) In compliance with the ICC's final Order in Docket 13-0318, ComEd has excluded recovery of payroll tax related to removed incentive compensation. The ComEd payroll tax rate is 6.35%. This amount is grossed up by the wages and salaries allocator to include on App 7.

Recognized worldwide as one of America's leading art museums, the Art Institute is enthusiastically supported by a membership base of nearly 100,000 households and welcomes approximately 1.5 million local, national, and international visitors through its doors each year. To augment its onsite offerings, the museum actively facilitates lifelong learning and engagement in the visual arts through targeted education and outreach initiatives that have been carefully designed for students, teachers, adults, and families. The Art Institute of Chicago was founded as both a museum and school for the fine arts in 1879, a critical era in the history of Chicago as civic energies were devoted to rebuilding the metropolis that had been destroyed by the Great Fire of 1871. The Art Institute found its permanent home in 1893, when it moved into a building, constructed jointly with the city of Chicago for the World's Columbian Exposition, at the intersection of Michigan Avenue and Adams Street. That building, its entry flanked by the two famous bronze lions, remains the "front door" of the museum even today. In keeping with the academic origins of the institution, a research library was constructed in 1901; eight major expansions for gallery and administrative space have followed, with the latest being the Modern Wing, which opened in 2009. The permanent collection has grown from plaster casts to nearly 300,000 works of art in fields ranging from Chinese bronzes to contemporary design and from textiles to installation art. The museum's mission is advanced by its dual commitment to both art and audience. Central to this approach is the development of its exhibition schedule and educational initiatives. The presentation of diverse special exhibitions enhances the museum's reputation for cutting-edge art research, planning, and scholarship, and sustains its position as a cultural center for visitors, students, and artists alike. In addition, with one of the largest museum education programs in the country, the Art Institute offers more than 2,000 educational programs and serves more than 400,000 participants annually.	47	10	10	25

30	BACK OF THE YARDS NEIGHBORHOOD	Culture & Arts	Founded in May 1939 by Joseph Meegan, Saul Alinsky, supporting clergy, business owners, union officials, and residents, the Back of the Yards Neighborhood Council is the oldest community organization in the U.S. As chronicled in Upton Sinclair's famous book, "The Jungle," the Back of the Yards area suffered from social disorganization, unemployment, poor housing, and juvenile delinquency. The BYNC was created in response to these social issues and continues today to bring social services and economic resources to the community. BYNC was formed to be a unified voice for the neighborhood to improve the quality of life for residents and businesses alike through advocacy and program development. BYNC's motto, conceived during the formation of the BYNC, continues to inspire and motivate the community, "We the people will work out our own destiny."  The mission of the BYNC is to enhance the general welfare of all residents, organizations, and businesses in our service area by integrating social services and economic development programs. By addressing community development, education, and human services in our daily activities we are "creating a better place." Everything we do, in one way or another, is aimed at helping someone improve their life or their situation. Every individual and organization we serve is a part of our community, and we believe that communities are not improved by infrastructure and program investments alone. Our programs focus on economic development, social services, workforce development, and community organizing activities to create a sense of community, improve people's lives, and improve the physical assets and spaces in the Back of the Yards.  The BYNC offers a variety of programs and services that meet the diverse needs of our community. These programs include after school tutoring, a computer lab with computer literacy training, a free senior citizen shuttle bus, free home repairs for senior citizens, youth summer employment programs, GED classes, ESL classes, an internationally-renowned Ballet Folklorico dance group, a variety of economic development programs, and much more. 349	UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS FOUNDATION	Education/Colleges/Universities	Urban Alliance's mission is to empower under-resourced youth to aspire, work, and succeed through paid internships, formal training, and mentoring. The overarching goal of the organization is to equip youth to successfully transition to the working world, and Urban Alliance achieves this by equipping youth to achieving the following objectives: 1) Improving hard and soft job skills, (as defined by internal evaluation tools); 2) Graduating from high school; 3) Attending college or a training program; 4) Identifying employment opportunities; and 5) Gaining long-term employment experience.  In 1996, Andrew Plepler, then an attorney for the Department of Justice, visited Anacostia Senior High School in Washington, DC, and asked the students what they needed most to succeed. One bold young person simply said, "I need a job." Andrew found a paid internship for that young person, and rallied his friends with backgrounds in business to hire five of that young person's friends. Since then, Urban Alliance has built an effective youth development model, and implemented a robust evaluation program that has demonstrated the capacity of the program model to grow incrementally, while maintaining high quality outcomes. As recently as 2003, Urban Alliance served only 40 Washington, DC youth. Currently, Urban Alliance serves more than 1,500 youth annually in four regions (DC, Baltimore, Chicago, and Northern Virginia) through four programs (High School Internship Program, Alumni Services, Curriculum Outreach, and Young Adult Internship Program (Baltimore only)).  Urban Alliance is a year-long employment program for disadvantaged high school seniors combining five innovative programmatic elements. These elements are: professional, paid internships; mentoring from an adult professional; case management from a dedicated staff member; trainings focused on college and career skills; and post-program Alumni Services, all of which contribute to transforming students' trajectories. Urban Alliance demonstrates that these elements, in combination have outstanding results: 100% high school graduation rate, more than 90% post secondary education acceptance, and, 80% post-secondary education enrollment.				5 enable at-risk children to overcome obstacles, focus on their education and, ultimately, to succeed in school and in life.

			Youth Guidance sees a bright and successful future for every at-risk, inner-city elementary and high school student in Chicago. Because we believe that success in school is not only possible but should be achieved and celebrated, we are present in the schools to facilitate an environment that truly engages students in the learning process, and through careful guidance, enables them to realize their full potential and graduate with a meaningful plan for successfully managing life.
			Youth Guidance has served children and youth in Chicago's most under-resourced communities for 91 years. Founded in 1924 as the Church Mission of Help, the agency was originally formed to assist girls in need of shelter, clothing, medical care, financial help, legal assistance, and educational or vocational opportunities. In 1962, the Church Mission of Help merged with an agency serving boys in family court and became Youth Guidance. In 1969, through a partnership with Chicago Public Schools, Youth Guidance established its first full-time offices within public schools, laying the foundation for today's comprehensive programs that reinforce academic curricula and strengthen relationships between parents, children, and teachers.
			Youth Guidance offers programs in 80 of the most challenging schools across Chicago, guiding young people through their education and setting them on the path toward a healthy and successful future. We meet kids where they are -- physically and emotionally -- to help them recognize and reach their full potential. The schools are spread throughout 40 of Chicago's 79 neighborhoods and three suburban Cook County communities. The schools and communities served by Youth Guidance are typically under-resourced and characterized by high poverty, low-academic achievement, and a high incidence of crime and violence.
			Each Youth Guidance program has been strategically developed to address a community need that falls within one of three specific service areas: Community & After-School Programs, Counseling & Prevention, and Youth Workforce Development. Under the auspices of these three programs, Youth Guidance is dedicated to eliminating racism, empowering women and promoting peace, justice, freedom and dignity for all.
